All Baby & Family Portrait Sessions

We know, you want a photo that truly captures what a special time this is, but we also know that you want to look spectacular. With over ten years in the field, Emily Payne is the expert at capturing the beauty of families and babies alike, so whatever your age, she'll make you look like a star.

Baby, It's You!

Babies don't really care that their parents want some great photos that capture their beautiful smiles. They just want to play. So play is what they'll do. Emily will capture the smiles and the expressions of joy and wonder on baby's face without your little one even knowing it. Bring in your baby of any age over 3 months for a play session and remember those smiling moments always. Don't worry, we're well versed in tears and tantrums, so tell baby to bring it.

In-studio session for single child (mom and dad participate too!) $255

One Happy Family

There once was a family who wished and wished for a photo of which they could be proud. A picture that captured what they truly looked like, their family dynamic and their love for each other. One day, they came upon a local artist named Emily and their wish was granted. They got photos in which they looked happy and relaxed; like they would if you bumped into them on vacation. The End.

In-studio session	$325
On location in SF	$350
More than 5 people	$375

Our goal is to ensure you and your family are comfortable and having a good time during the shoot. Each session is booked for 90 minutes, but we allow flexibility in time should your baby (or adults) need some extra TLC.

An additional fee of $25 applies for travel to an outdoor location or outside of San Francisco.

Proofs, Prints & Albums

Within ten days of your shoot, we will send you a complimentary set of low resolution images from your session. We will also send you a link to your online gallery. You are welcome to order online but we're happy to help you choose which enlargements will be best for your home and your family. Alternatively, we can visit you at your home to show you're your images.

Emily wants your photos to be perfect. She retouches them before printing, and inspects them in detail after printing.
